Art Unit:

I. Claim Rejection under 35 USC 112, 2nd paragraph

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. The phrase "essentially free of vetiver oil" in claims 1-27 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The phrase "essentially free of vetiver oil" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Examiner finds no support for the phrase in the specification.

II. New Matter Rejection

Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The phrase "essentially free of vetiverol" is new matter.

Art Unit:

III. Claim Rejection under 35 USC 103(a) over Takagi et al (EP 1,033,076; 9/16/00) on record.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 21-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takagi et al. Takagi teaches a composition comprising nootkatone plus water (substrate material or wood building material). Takagi also teaches that the aqueous composition can be applied to rooms (substrate materials) to control mosquitoes. See entire document. In a claim drawn to a composition, a statement to the intended use of the composition has no patentable significance. The reference does not teach that the composition is essentially of vetiver oil. However, applicant does not define what is meant by the phrase "essentially free of vetiver oil".

IV. Claim 27 is objected to since it reads like a method claim, but is a composition claim.

V. Rejection of claims under 35 USC 102(e) will be maintained. Takagi does not qualify as 102 art.
